Meet the Governors – Jenny Daniels

My name is Jenny Daniels, I have 2 boys who both attend HFPS. For me the most important job I can do is to be a good mum and that is why I take such an active role in all aspects of their lives including school. This will be my first year as a parent governor and I am excited to take on a new challenge.

I work as a community nurse specialised in paediatrics. My role as a children's nurse has provided me with many transferable skills. I have extensive knowledge, experience and exposure in safeguarding children, information governance, infection control and data protection. I am involved in the provision of training within many mainstream schools, this training allows children with specific health needs to attend school safely and ensures school staff have the skills and knowledge to provide a safe environment.

I have a keen interest in team promotion and applied for this role to act as an advocate for other parents.
