

HIGHER FAILSWORTH PRIMARY SCHOOL

Meet the Governors – Khadija Amin

My name is Khadija. I am a 2nd year student midwife at the University of Salford. I am also a full-time mum to my 5-year-old boy and girl who currently attend HFPS. I chose this school despite it being a fair distant away from my home due to its amazing reviews and recommendations from friends.

I have always wanted to be as involved as I can with my children and being a parent governor has made this easier. Although I am relatively new to this role, I appreciate having the opportunity to see the bigger picture behind the school running and being involved in important decision making.

I come from a minority background so do feel my input could prove valuable to the minority within school.

I am very excited to be a part of Higher Failsworth Primary School and look forward to seeing it thrive.
